Responsibilities

Minimum 2 years experience administering or consulting on the Salesforce platform, with hands-on configuration across Salesforce CPQ (product catalog setup, pricing rules, quote templates, bundle and option configuration, discount schedules, approval processes, and quote-to-contract workflows)

Experience with core Sales Cloud objects and configuration (opportunities, products, pricebooks, quotes)

Active Salesforce Administrator certification required at minimum

Capable of completing at least 80% of declarative build needs without detailed solution notes, including installing common AppExchange packages, and can execute Solution Architect designs with minimal oversight

Comfortable as a client-facing point person for portions of workshops, requirements sessions, demos, testing, and training, keeping stakeholders aligned and raising risks early

Understands the SOW and can identify risks such as scope creep or unclear requirements, partnering with PMs to propose next steps before issues escalate

Ability to work with clients to proactively identify enhancements and include in a backlog

Basic experience with data migration or transformation tools (e.g., Copado, data loaders) to support deployment and release processes

Understands the purpose of each deliverable, knows where templates live, and can drive documentation creation with minimal guidance

Resourceful problem solver who owns assigned work, seeks guidance appropriately, and delivers predictable quality with minimal oversight

Actively uses AI tools such as Claude to speed up delivery work, including documentation, testing, and requirements synthesis

Ability to mentor junior consultants, including QA on their first iterations of deliverables

Excellent oral and written communication skills, with the ability to take a leadership role when necessary

Excited about AI: you're already using AI tools to work faster and deliver better outcomes, and you want to keep pushing on that. This is where our SF+ practice is headed, so it's a practical, non-negotiable skill, not a nice-to-have

Preferred

Salesforce CPQ Specialist certification

Exposure to Salesforce Billing is a plus

Familiarity with contract lifecycle management (CLM), renewals, and amendment processes is a plus

Exposure to Revenue Cloud or Advanced Approvals is a plus

Experience with additional clouds (Sales Cloud, Service Cloud, Marketing Cloud) is a plus

Technical background (developer exposure, integrations, or platform architecture) is a plus

Ability to guide customers through the full lead-to-cash process, connecting sales strategy, pricing, and deal execution rather than just configuring quote-to-cash mechanics

Understands how Sales Cloud and CPQ work together to support the broader sales process, and can advise clients on business process improvements from opportunity creation through contract close

Humble: a team player first. You teach as readily as you learn, and you don't need to be the smartest person in the room to add value

Hungry: genuinely curious and self-driven. You take on a new certification or course because you enjoy it, not because it's assigned, and you dig into unfamiliar problems until you've figured them out

Smart: people-smart. You read a room, enjoy talking with customers, and can hold your own in front of a client audience

Benefits

Paid time off plus holidays

Billable bonus opportunities

A collaborative work environment

Generous work/life opportunities

Rewards and recognition programs

Complete and competitive benefits

Outstanding benefits package
