Job description

Robbins Recruiting Solutions LLC - Salesforce Implementation Manager

Job URL

Salesforce Implementation Manager

Robbins Recruiting Solutions LLC is recruiting for a nationwide residential roofing company seeking a Salesforce Implementation Manager. The role owns the end-to-end Salesforce implementation, including configuration, data migration, integrations, user adoption, and ongoing platform administration across sales and customer operations. The position also supports branch acquisitions, cross-functional collaboration, training, change management, and sales enablement.

Responsibilities

Own the end-to-end Salesforce implementation across all current and future branches — managing configuration, data migration, user setup, and go-live sequencing

Conduct discovery sessions with branch Sales Managers, General Managers, and executive leadership to translate business requirements into scalable Salesforce configuration

Configure Salesforce Sales Cloud to align with the Company sales process: lead management, opportunity tracking, pipeline reporting, quote generation, and customer communication workflows

Manage data migration from legacy CRM platforms and branch-level tracking tools, ensuring data integrity and completeness through cutover

Develop and execute a structured branch onboarding playbook — from system setup and user provisioning through post-go-live stabilization and adoption tracking

Coordinate integration touchpoints with ServiceTitan (field operations), NetSuite (ERP), and other platforms to ensure clean, bidirectional data flow across the tech stack

Track implementation milestones, surface risks proactively, and report progress to VP Operations and executive leadership on a defined cadence

Serve as the internal Salesforce platform owner post-go-live — responsible for ongoing configuration, user management, role-based permissions, workflow rules, and system health

Build and maintain a library of standard dashboards and reports aligned to Company sales KPI framework: lead volume, close rate, average ticket, pipeline velocity, and revenue by branch

Identify and implement automation opportunities — flows, process builder, and AI-assisted features — that reduce manual work and increase sales team productivity

Troubleshoot and resolve platform issues escalated from branch staff, serving as the internal Tier 2 support layer before engaging Salesforce support directly

Manage the Salesforce vendor relationship including license management, contract renewals, feature releases, and support escalations

Lead ongoing training and change management as the platform evolves — new features, new hires, and new branches from future acquisitions

Partner with branch Sales Managers and General Managers to ensure Salesforce is driving the behaviors and outcomes sales model requires — not just being used as a data entry tool

Collaborate with Finance on revenue recognition, pipeline-to-close accuracy, and forecasting workflows that connect Salesforce data to NetSuite reporting

Work closely with the ServiceTitan Implementation Manager to ensure handoff workflows between sales (Salesforce) and production (ServiceTitan) are seamless and data-complete

Support People Operations with user provisioning, onboarding access setup, and role-based permissions for all new employees at acquired branches

Maintain comprehensive documentation for all configuration decisions, integration specs, SOPs, and training materials in a centralized, accessible format

Deploy the established Salesforce implementation playbook to each newly acquired branch as part of the IMO integration workstream

Conduct pre-close CRM assessments on target acquisitions — documenting existing sales data, platform configurations, and migration requirements

Partner with the Integration Project Manager to sequence Salesforce go-live within the broader branch integration timeline

Champion adoption at newly acquired branches — serving as a patient, energizing presence that builds confidence in new tools and processes among teams navigating significant organizational change

Required

4+ years of hands-on Salesforce implementation and administration experience — including Sales Cloud configuration, data migration, and post-go-live platform ownership

Demonstrated track record managing multi-site or multi-entity Salesforce rollouts

Deep functional knowledge of Salesforce Sales Cloud: leads, opportunities, accounts, contacts, CPQ or quoting tools, reports, dashboards, flows, and AppExchange integrations

Experience managing Salesforce integrations with ERP and field service platforms (NetSuite, ServiceTitan, or comparable systems)

A genuine change champion orientation — you understand that your job is not just to configure a system but to bring people along with it; you lead adoption through coaching, patience, and clear communication

Strong project management discipline — ability to manage concurrent workstreams across multiple branches, enforce deadlines, and communicate status clearly to senior stakeholders

Salesforce Administrator certification (ADM 201) required

Willingness and ability to travel up to 50% to branch locations for implementation support, training, and go-live coverage

Preferred

ideally in a field service, home services, or similarly distributed business model

Sales Cloud Consultant, Platform App Builder

Salesforce Sales Cloud Consultant or Advanced Administrator certification

Experience in a PE-backed, multi-site platform company supporting a high-velocity acquisition integration strategy

Familiarity with ServiceTitan and the operational workflows of a roofing, HVAC, or comparable home services business

Background in CRM strategy, sales operations, or revenue operations in addition to technical Salesforce administration

Experience with Salesforce Einstein Analytics or similar BI/reporting tools for sales performance visibility

Prior experience building or contributing to a CRM playbook in an M&A integration context

Benefits

Remote work arrangement
